Benjamin Rouach joins Fenchurch as a Managing Director

We are pleased to announce that Benjamin Rouach has joined Fenchurch as a Managing Director to support our coverage in France and across Europe. Benjamin joins us from Goldman Sachs, where he spent three years. Before that Benjamin was at Morgan Stanley for seven years, having earlier started his career at BAML. Benjamin's wide transaction experience encompasses all of the sub-sectors of financial services.

Malik Karim, Founder and Chief Executive of Fenchurch, commented:

"Fenchurch's business is continuing to expand rapidly. Our growth in France and across Europe is a key part of the continued development of Fenchurch. I am delighted that Benjamin is joining us and he will further strengthen our industrial-scale team of experienced senior bankers."
